ABOUT NEPAL

Nepal is a landlocked sovereign state located in South Asia. It is located in the Himalayas and bordered to north by China and to the south, east and west by India. The mountainous north has eight of the world's ten tallest mountains, including the highest point on Earth, Mount Everest, called Sagarmatha in Nepali.

“ Nepal travel is rewarded with friendly people, unspoiled nature, and stunning views of the highest peaks in the world. Nepal is known as a land of people who remain happy and bring smile in their faces even in the adverse situations.

Lumbini is a Buddhist pilgrimage site and UNESCO World Heritage Site site in the Kapilavastu district is held to be the birthplace of Gautam Buddha, gave birth to the Buddhist tradition.

In Total, honesty, courage, simplicity and hard work with an inborn sense of loyalty characterize the tranquil Nepalese way of life. Nepal's flag is the only national flag in the world that is not rectangular in shape and is considered to be the most mathematical flag in the world.

Nepal has been providing manpower to overseas countries for nearly two centuries now. The Nepalese were the first to be hired by the British East India Company in 1814 when they came to India during their Far-Eastern Crusade and controlled much of India. Impressed with the loyalty, honesty and bravery of the Nepalese people, the British also hired Nepalese Gurkhas for their military force and ever since the Nepalese Gurkhas have been an integral part of British Army. A typical Nepalese meal is Dal bhat. Dal is a spicy lentil soup, served over bhat (boiled rice), served with tarkari with achar(pickles) or chutni

The overwhelming majority of the Nepalese population follows Hinduism. Shiva is regarded as the guardian deity of the country. Nepal is home to the famous Lord Shiva temple, the Pashupatinath Temple, where Hindus from all over the world come for pilgrimage. According to theology, Sita Devi was born in the Mithila Kingdom of King Janaka Raja.

Most visitors to Nepal come to enjoy the diverse nature and incredible mountain scenery. Eight of the ten tallest peaks in the world, known as the eight-thousanders, are located in Nepal. Mount Everest, the tallest mountain on earth, stands at 29,029 feet.
